CAMP CROFT
SOUTH CAROLINA

June 22, 1943
Tuesday

Dearest Judy,

Today I received the most mail from you in one day. Two letters written at Long Beach and the enjoyable post card you sent me.

I guess you don't need any kisses because you didn't check it.

From the brief glance I got at looking at the girls in Spartanburg and around the Service Club I'll say that they wear the same cloths as you do. I haven't seen any girls in shorts. I think that they were slacks. Most of them wear thin dresses both cotton and silk.

I wrote Aaron a letter Sunday. We maybe able to get together one week-end if his camp should be near mine.

Dear, kindly explain to my mother all the details about accommodations down here. She wrote me a letter inquiring about it.

There a small incident that happened to me last Wednesday night when we went on a hike. It was a dark night and we were walking through the woods. Each man had to be close to the man in front of him in order to keep the whole platoon in contact. We came to an object which I had a little difficulty in crossing. When I finally got over the tree trunk and looked around me I couldn't find my buddy that was in front of me. After talking the rest of the men about 50 yards I gave up hope of finding the front of the platoon.

I told the men, I lost contact with the man in front of. It was a good thing that the sergeant was in the rear of the groupe because if it wasn't for him we probably would have found ourselves sleeping out in the woods for the evening. Ever since then I have been hearing, lost scout began.

One thing I like about the army. When it comes to extra detail the sergeant would say, I want five volunteers; to before he gets a reply he then says: I take you, you, you and you began.

The army has two sizes, too large and too small.

Do you look at my letters when answering me? I remember asking you many questions without getting an answer for.
 On the 97th line
 On the U.S.S.
 About your cousin and songs.

That's all for the present.
 Were you able to make out
 the code that I wrote you?
 Answer to puzzle.

I LOVE YOU

With all my love & kisses

 Ben
