Dearest Judy,

B - It is in its getting cold. It feels as if the winter is setting in. Now it's like the first cold spell that hits New York. And all the time <sup>while</sup> I was under the impression that I wouldn't have to face a winter this year.

Last night after coming back from town I signed the payroll for a partial payment of ten dollars which I'll receive in a few days.

We had mail call today but there were only a few letters and none for me.

You will notice on the envelope that my address has been changed. I'm still at the same camp but I'm now using the APO number of ~~the~~ this camp. The order came from higher headquarters today because it should will speed ~~are~~ ~~are~~ our mail service.

So from now on address my letters as follows,

OK?

Darling I also noticed that my name is on the bulletin board for KP duty tomorrow. Why just today I was saying that I was lucky because I haven't been on KP yet, sure enough, no sooner said, than done.

I don't mind, as it's about time I did some work around here - when the censor reads the above he may ~~be~~ <sup>take</sup> it serious and have my commanding officer find work for me. Had to put that in there just in case.

It's almost chow time sweets, so I drew another letter as usual with all my love and kisses to the sweetest and most precious girl in the world.

Ben
