My Dearest Beloved Judy

This is about the longest period of time, recently since the mail has been going through nicely that I haven't received a letter from you. I guess I spoke to quicken when I told you that if I don't hear from you one day I usually receive one the next day.

Another all night rain which makes it over a week of nightly rain. I always keep writing you that I believe the weather is changing up but when the evening rolls around it's the same old story of rain.

As I write you yesterday I know - of a cousin of mine that in Italy and while yesterday I knew his location I later found out that his outfit has moved to a different position and it may not be so easy for me to locate him now. His name is Harry and it's my cousin Estey from Brooklyn husband. You so probable remember sitting next to her sister.

Every week we are going to receive a nation of them - (X) bottles of Coca Cola. I believe that it's loaded in South Africa so really isn't so much a heavy cargo load and it doesn't take long between the two points. It costs us four. & cents a bottle which is fine with me. Photo covers today - news sweetheart so with mountains of love - and a kiss for every peck - Lynn A. Love, Barr
