Dearest Sweetheart,

No letters from you today, but I received a total of five packages from my brother and mother.

I received the books my brother sent me and I'm going to start reading the book "A Tree Grows In Brooklyn".

This morning we went to the shower unit only to find that it's closed down for a few days, so I guess we will be going back some other day.

Just figured I'd inform you dear, that if we intend sending me some more of those delicious Baxtons chocolates than if you send just a small box of Baxtons along you will be able to send it just class mail thus it should travel like a regular letter and I probably would receive it sooner, but the other way it only takes about a week or two longer.

That package you sent me containing the paper certainly must have gotten lost as it's it reached to a different point and I'd probably see day when we are sitting in our home, the door bell will ring, and sure enough it will be the very long awaited package.

I'm been looking forward to that package because I hope it arrives soon.

all my love kisses

Ben
