My Dearest Judy,

Today I took another G.I. haircut from a real-headed Italian barber who for thirty days, has been doing forced labor for the Germans. The Germans have subjected many Italian workers to work for them in digging, defense positions. The barber stated that for their services they receive a small amount of food and three cigarettes. This man managed to escape and now leads a free life.

Another method used being that the supposed superior race did was take with them all the wine and cattle that the farmers in this sector had. And amazing thing is that they also flooded the low-lands here and I've seen skulls just floating in the water.

One of the annoying things about remaining in the open air all day, but the lathern flies and as insist upon landing on my nose, hair, and other parts of my body.

A radio is on in the vicinity and I've been hearing some fine music. It present it - song is "Summer time".

All is quiet at the moment as far as the roar of the guns are concerned which gives my head a peace of mind and I think I'm with you.
