My Dearest Sweetheart

I received your air mail letter of June 24th and because on the envelope you had the stamps in opposite direction, I glanced under each to find that on one you written I love you but on the other stamp I was couldn't determine what you written. Just got it, the word is darling.

Haven't started reading your books but intend doing so upon completing this letter.

My reason for retracting and then requesting the soap was because in the evenings I get cool and the soap is a good drink as well as feel the tongue hot morning.

A letter came from my brother in which I finally know his outcome with his flight and classification. Appad Appad by the status remains in no man's land as he definitely don't know whether he will be increasing back as part. After a few cool days the temperature is rising high again.

Love and kisses
for every one
Your own Ben
