Saturday
Aug. 19, 1944

My Dearest Sweetheart,

I couldn't ask for a letter Saturday especially when on this day I received one of your Saturday letters plus another air mail of Wednesday. Dates written were July 19th and 23rd. Both of these letters were also followed to the hospital and then returned to my organization. I'm glad I clarified a statement but actually I'm not sure which one you are referring to. Think I know but dear, please, henceforth please refer to the exact statement so I'm not puzzled. Okay?

Amazing my brother and Mrs Taylor met in the same house. Did Betty's mother ask my brother, if he had a brother or did she find out when speaking to Betty that he Mike was my brother?

Thinking and missing me me with each passing second, it certainly brings it down to precision

Darling, there's a possibility that you won't receive mail from me for about a week plus or minus a few days, but I want to tell you now if that does happen don't worry about it because I'll probably will be okay but just unable to write now mail you my letters. That's practically putting the words meaning in scrupulous<sup>3</sup> form, as you must remember that not so long ago a similar incident occurred. Do you comprehend?

(comprehend in American means understand)

News reports mention the large scale operations that our Air Force is hammering German ground movements in France. It must be difficult to visualize the losses announced unless one can actually see it, but since I saw what our Air Force accomplished in the few field days while the Germans were racing ~~on~~ the incessant South and North of Rome I can just about picture <sup>remnants of</sup> the enemy vehicles, <sup>every few feet</sup> ~~again~~ remaining along the shoulders of the road as we go rolling forward.

It was raining for awhile 4 this morning but now it cleared and the sun is strong.

I'll like to be there, so I could place my arms around you, respond to your wonderful kiss and give you a thrilling one than whisper

I love you as always with all my heart and miss you constantly while we are separated.

Good night sweetheart 11:55 and pleasant dreams.

Forever yours,
Dew
