My Dearest Judy,

For a change I decided to write a air mail as I mostly been sending you free letters and possible the air mail will arrive quicker even though I doubt it.

Ray and I went to Roberts' house for another delicious dinner. We had french fried potatoes again because Roberts' mother knows I greatly enjoy them.

Hope I'm not going to make you hungry when I inform you of what I had to eat.

This time it was a creamed potatoe soup, salamis and sardines, then those french fried potatoes with steak cheese with bread, apple pie with coffee.

We didn't go to the movies because it was raining too hard.

Robert and Andre expect to go to Paris next Monday as they think they finally found someone with a auto to them they cheer. Its costing them each 300 dollars for the trip. Ray and I accepted another invitation for next Saturday for dinner.

I enclosing the newspaper which I mentioned yesterday.
 This special edition of the paper is just a summary of our progress through Southern France figure you might be interested in glancing through the newspaper.

all my loves kisses
 darling. four your son
