Just like you I prefer air mail or regular letters to a mail and I'm making an attempt to write you ^{more} often the type of letter you like.

You can notice the pen is giving me a little trouble by the two blots on the stationary. Possible the pen also wants to express its feelings thoughts you with a blot meaning a kiss.

That's all the the news here is to recruit now, therefore I'll sign off with all my love, and wishing you pleasant dreams and sleep well.

I love you darling,
as always
Ben

My Beloved Judy,

Received two more mail letters from you today dear, one not dated but by your number I know it was written Oct 12th and the other letter the preceding day.

Whenever I write to Julie I always sends her your best regards.

The French people I'm coming in contact with now act differently than those I've met previously because these people in the sector I am watch your health.

Instead of going on a three day rest, to the rest center. I plan on asking permission, if I can go to _____ where Robert is living. Naturally I mean when is my turn to go to the rest center and instead of going to Robert's house at that time, I'll ask to go there around Christmas time so I'll be able to go ice skating and Robert's father said he had a pair of skis for me. There's always a first time and I'll like to try ~~sking~~ that sport. I have my doubts though about getting the permission.

I don't mind in the least if your air mail letters do take a few extra days than U mail.

now are paying a high price for being liberated. In one of the recent towns I passed by, the sights looked very similar to the war torn towns in Italy for awhile I passed town after town without seeing heavy inflicted damages but now, its going to be different as the Germans are making a stubborn attempt to hold us off as long as possible. Therefore you can visualize the effect on the civilians in that they themselves become victims of our devastating artillery bombardments.

Glad that your cold is better and honey with winter here, you better be careful and
