Hello my Sweetheart,

Oh, what a wonderful day. I won my five dollar bet on the election and I received your grand regular letter of Oct 11th.

Even though election returns aren't complete, it's a sure thing I won the bet and startling good news is the defeat of Ham Fish and Senator Nye. I don't know yet how the other isolationists are doing but I hope it's the same results as Nye and Fish.

I mailed another forty dollar money order today with instructions. The money is for a gift for your darling, and

The silly silly thought is completely out of mind and I believe it will remain that way.

Red Cross girls will be around again later today, so it means more do nuts.

That's all the news for today honey, before I'll close with mountains of love and a kiss for every peak.

I love you with all my heart, as always,

Bill

Glad you now understand ³ one of my puzzling statements concerning, expecting to be in Germany.

It isn't so surprising that you haven't gotten the picture of me back from Jack yet. Now you know for the next time.

So long as you aren't spending your money foolishly I don't worry. Spending it on enjoyment and fun shows and gifts is okay.

Hokey — you understand what I wrote in another one of my complicated letters about waiting for my return and one of your previous letters proved beyond any doubt what your intentions are.

I'll like for mother to buy herself something. If I'm other doesn't spend part of the money to buy herself something than I'll try and send you a money order next month to buy her something from the both of us.

Do you prefer I send you the money for your gift? you don't have to hesitate to buy what you desire and inform my mother of it. I want you to select something real nice and it doesn't have to be expensive. Spend ten, fifteen or twenty dollars.

No, keep the one dollar in French I sent you. If you don't want it than I'll recede recede you of it when I return.
It's just that I wanted a fifty franc note as a souvenir.
Compliment?
