Hello my love,

Sunday
Mar 19, 1944

I received your v mail letter of Mon 3rd Tuesday which I was glad to get.

Our enemy is up to his old tricks again, of looting, burning civilian houses, and killing all in the population. This afternoon I saw many farmers' cattle, scattered on the fields - that were dead. Part of the German work. This evening in the far off distance I saw a large burning fire. It was reported that this area was a town, in which the Germans were burning down all the houses. These are just a few examples of the ruth lessness of the German thievery.

Did you receive the v mail Christmas and New Year card? It was one question you once asked me but I was unable to tell you when you received the v mail greeting letter you most rightly found the answer to your question. Well that no longer holds true. I hope for the second winter and you now have it, but not for long. I love you darling
