I have heard of the 4 song "I'll be loving you always," I thought it was a fairly old song by now, because I believed I heard it back in Italy. I like the words to the song also darling,

Received a package from you my cousin living in Lynn Mass, today its the first package from home containing packages of cigarettes. Its unnecessary for you to send me that item since because I receive an average of a pack of cigarettes a day, and I don't smoke quite that much per day. The contents of the package were very good.

Hoped you enjoyed yourself today honey, and remember I love you very very much and god, how I miss you.
Forever yours,
Ben

Christmas Day
Dec 25, 1944

My Deary Beloved Sweetheart, If it wasn't for the fact that I received from you today dear, a lovely and Saturday air mail letter dated Dec 9th and you very nice Christmas card which came exactly on the right day. While the birthday card you mailed me darling didn't arrive on the right day, you definitely calculated correctly the day for mailing the Christmas card, or was it just coincidental?

getting tired of writing you as often as I could, because that's the most pleasure I have daily to look forward to, besides receiving your letters to read.

We had our turkey dinner today which wasn't bad, but the mere fact of eating out of the mess kit changes the enjoyment of eating the meal. I deeply hope that, that's the last such Christmas dinner I have to eat in such a manner and that next Christmas we will be sitting side by side enjoying our turkey meal.

This is the last sheet of this <sup>2</sup> type of stationery that I have and I don't expect to be able to buy more yet soon.

The ending of the first paragraph, which I omitted, I will now add. I would hardly know it was Christmas, because there isn't much of a Christmas here today.

One change that I've noticed today is that all the civilians are dressed up, and walking the streets on their way out from church. Otherwise there are very few trench people walking the streets.

Darling, I don't think you need worry about me
