SEE INSTRUCTION NO. 2

Hello My Darling,

Tuesday
Dec 26th 1944

Today I received your 5 mail letter dated Dec 10th & I to often wonder how many more letters I will be writing you before we can discuss our thoughts, incidents and plans face to face.

The Colonel of my outfit has written a book on the history of the Battalion. Each of us received two copies of the writing in booklet form. At present we are unable to mail the booklet home but attempts are being made to have the book pass the censors his requirements. It is believed that shortly the order will go through and then I'll be able to mail you the booklet. When you read it, I'm sure it will answer a few of the questions you have asked me that I was unable to answer you directly. Hope it won't be too long before I can mail the booklet to you dearest.

Been listening to a few good radio programs that coming over the loud speaker that we can hear from the radio in the vehicle but we make the transition to the room. All my loves kisses
Ben
