My beloved Judy,
With the small amount of pay that I kept for myself, I was saving my cards for enjoyment and this time instead of losing I luckily won. Before I have a chance to lose it all, I decided to send you a money order for fifty dollars, to spend the money in part or all for a lovely Mother's Day gift.

Re received each of your wonderful Valentine cards today, dearest, which I immensely enjoyed. I regret that I was unable to mail you anything better than the I mail Valentine and I mailed you. Due to the circumstances I'm sure you understand.

The way things look at present there is a good possibility that I won't get permission to visit Home again on Sunday. I haven't asked yet, and I believe and I'll wait until Sunday and see what occurs after a month of no snow there was a slight snowfall today all my love dearest
