My Beloved Sweetheart,

Another Saturday and a bright one at that being that I received one of your special letters dated Jan 27th and another air mail letter dated Feb 1, Darling I'm delighted that you wrote the paragraph, whereby you knew I was entering the Infantry very tactfully because there isn't anything you or I could do about it and if you wrote a long regretful paragraph you would have me feel terrible. As it is I clearly understand how you feel, and I'm glad that you also think everything will turn out okay.

I'm pleased that the money order for your folks anniversary arrived in ample time.

I continued to use my former address on all letters to mom because I didn't want to mention to her about the Infantry training until I arrived at my present outfit, that's why your letters had my address of the training camp, while mother's didn't. Convey my funny reading about your speaking to Sylvia, and that she received a letter from Howie. why it was just a few days ago that I saw Howie. I have my doubts about visiting him tomorrow.

Oh yes the Red Cross was around with their usual donuts and coffee. This time I settled for the least number of donuts I has ever ate when the Red Cross girls are around. That's two. No their isn't anything wrong with me but the line was long therefore I didn't go far seconds

What you you know 3

A dance is being planned for us E.M. tonight. The rumor is that a large number of girls are expected but, first I doubt it and secondly, regardless how many there are, there will be about twenty times as many servicemen. I plan on taking a walk over there and seeing what its like. Tomorrow I'll let you know the results, I say, the girls will be the nice ones, being speaking able to speak both French and German. I wish I could be dancing with you dearest even though I'll probably be stepping all over your feet since its been such a long time that I've done any dancing. For a while today I thought the dance would have to be called off, and us fellows dancing to a different tune of music. But now its just a question of not knowing.

you will understand me ⁴ better if I said I may be too busy to write you tomorrow actually I don't know for sure.

That's all the news for today darling, except that I miss you more with each passing day, and desire to hold you close to me, kiss you and tell you I love you very very much and will forever dearest.

Good night and pleasant dreams yep, I'm sure I will just thinking of you honey,

I am,
yours,
Ben
