Heello My Darling,

Well I ve finxally seen it for myself therefore its no longer a rumor but a fact . After much doubt as to a shipment ocuring in the outfit, it has happened as the seventy five men rode away this morning, to go to one of the redeployment camps and from their they are slated to go to the port of La Harve and after embarking on one of the ships heading for the States ,they should be home around thirty days from now. Not bad is it, except that after their furloughs home they probable will ship off to the Pacific. The majority of these men came from the States just a few months ago as replacements. I gave one of the fellows ~~from~~ that was in my platoon and if he arrives in New York I asked him to telephone you. I figure that you might wish to talk to someone that has recently seen me, but I just realized that you probable wont be home to receive his~~cxllix~~ telephone call.

Another roll of prints was returned to me today honey but a poor job was dont on the developing therefore the man is going to redue the set. One picture of myself game out good and another picture I have taken of Sam and I together. Went I receive the new set of prints Ill send you a few more pictures. There is another roll of film that Sam and I took the day he was here but Sam took the roll to develop himself therefore I wont get the pictures until I see Sam again. I notified Sam not to contact me until I arrive at my new detail at quartermaster as I dont want him to travel all the ways over here and then be informed that Im around twenty miles or more away from my present outfit. If when I get to my rear echelon job Sam and I wont be able to contact each other Ill have him mail me the pictures therefore I will be getting those snapshots darling.

On the morning report Im already reported on detached service to the quartermaster but Im still waiting for orders at my present company . If they are sending me there I wish that Ill be shipped now.

No mail today dearest, but Ill be hoping for a letter tomorrow.

Good night darling and pleasant dreams, I love you with all my heart and will forever,

*yours forever,
Ben*
