Hello My Darling,

This is the last letter that you will hear me mention about the novelty box because tomorrow morning it goes in the mail. I haven't sealed the cover on cause I want to paint to dry over night. Enclosed in the box are two letters, one you will notice when you open the top lid and after reading the instructions, if you already don't know how the box normally will open, you will find the second short letter. Bet you are saying thank goodness as that about all I've been writing about in my letters. I'm mailing the box to your home address cause it probable won't be before forty five to sixty days till you receive it and by that time you probable won't be going out to the beach. If you still at the beach than the box will be forwarded to you, while if I wrote your beach address than their might be complications. With speedier service now, perhaps, you will get it in thirty days.

Went to the show this evening and saw "The Affairs of Susan" which I enjoyed. I think the picture is now circulating around the New York movie theatres and you have or will be seeing it. I'm glad that now we are seeing recent pictures.

We have not moved as yet honey but it looks definite that we will cause the advance party of the division that is going to take over this sector has been here and looking over our hill. The 3rd armored division is moving in here and we will be taking over their sector. Why the switch I don't know.

No mail today darling but since the ice has been broken and I received a forwarded letter I now have higher hopes of getting one tomorrow.

*Goodnight my love, and pleasant dreams I'm off to bed now, and as usual, I'll be dreaming of you, your love
Ben*
