Hello My Darling

Friday
Sept 20th, 1945

This is the day our engineer was supposed to move out from this camp but we were informed by our Co. today that the earliest we will move out will now be Oct 5th. The reason for the delay as explained to us is due to the overburden of the transportation system and no available trains until Oct 5th and even then perhaps we will have to sweat out a few more days. Nevertheless if I am home later in October I'd consider myself lucky cause of a new directive stating that all men with 80 and over points would be shipped home in October and men between 70 and 80 to ship in November.

Today there was a change in the weather and the better than good news as this camp is not winterized.

Must cancel on our date of Oct 13th starting leaving but I'm hoping that many more holidays after that don't pass without seeing you. I love you as always and I always will
