Hello My Darling,

It's a very funny picture of when my outfit next will leave for the States as it is I'm very disappointed that we did not move out last week as originally scheduled. Some thing seems to be certain, that if anything can be definitely planned in the Army and that that this camp is now scheduled to close down on October 10th according to an article written in the Stars and Stripes. Therefore I assume that at least we will be moving from this camp, or in before that date, but whether we go to another camp and wait or go direct to an POE, is that's something I can't figure out at present.

Life is very dull here since there isn't any thing to do the entire day except the same old routine of going to the ARS club and seeing a movie in the evening. It was bad the first seven days since we were processing and figured that we wouldn't be staying here any length of time. Perhaps if I was to receive a few old letters from you my mood would be higher but now that looks hopeless. When I notified you to stop writing me we also had to fill out change of address cards to stating whether we wished to have our mail returned to sender or delivered to our home address. I require you to fill out the latter.
