Hello My Darling

Here again this evening writing to you from the APO, last night I didn't go to the show and in about one half of an hour I'll be going to the theatre to see the picture. Wilson's.

Today all the fellows in my tent put in for another forty eight hour pass to Paris, therefore tomorrow morning I'll be heading for Paris again and like what I like best is sleeping on clean linen sheets and being able to take a good hot bath, plus the fact that meals are excellent. We have decided as yet how we would spend this trip in Paris except that one evening we plan on going to the C.M. night club, which will be much more reasonable than the one we went to the previous time.

I remember the time when I thought I'd never see Paris before leaving the ETO, and now I'm going there frequently. I prefer and wish I could be spending these days with you darling but we will have what a little longer.

all my love
Ben Logan
